

KABBALAH AND PSYCHOLOGY

by Z'ev ben Shimon Halevi

Z'ev ben Shimon Halevi is the Hebrew name of Warren Kenton, who was born 1933 into a Sefardi Jewish Levite family in England. For over forty-five years he has studied the Teaching, visited most major Kabbalistic centres in Europe, North Africa and Israel, taught on six continents and written fourteen books that have been translated into fourteen languages. He sees it as his task to translate the Judaic line of Kabbalah into a modern form for anyone who wishes to walk the Way of Kabbalah. He is the Principal Tutor of the International Kabbalah Society (www.kabbalahsociety.org) and he lives and works in London with his wife.

Saturday 1st May - Sunday 2nd May 2010

This weekend course brings together the disciplines of Kabbalah and Psychology combining ancient, medieval and modern knowledge and methods. We will examine universal principles related to the development of an individual. After studying the Macrocosm of Existence, we will see how a human being as the microcosm is influenced by the collective mind. The personal unconscious and processes of the psyche are seen in terms of the kabbalistic Tree of Life diagram. The interior exercises called the House of the Psyche and the Ship of the Soul will demonstrate these principles at work. After each slide-show exposition, there will be time for questions and observations.

Each day has the following schedule:

- 10.00 - 11.15 Session
- Coffee
- 11.45 - 13.00 Session
